

The Sun King

Adjectives

The Adjectives in this part of the story are missing. Can you add Adjectives that you think would be the most suitable for this story? Your answers don't need to be exactly the same words that are used in the Sun King.

Once upon a time when the Earth was new, the sky hung so low that children could leap from treetops and tumble and toss in the woolly clouds. The King of Siam ruled the Earth then, and his friend, the Sun King, ruled the heavens.

Every day, the Sun King's <sup>1</sup> _____ chariot would burn a <sup>2</sup> _____ trail across the sky bringing light and warmth to the earth. When the Sun King returned to his palace amongst the clouds, night would fall. Then the <sup>3</sup> _____ stars would come out to prick the <sup>4</sup> _____ darkness with their <sup>5</sup> _____ light, for at the time, there was no moon to brighten the <sup>6</sup> _____ sky.

All was calm and <sup>7</sup> _____ on Earth and every one was very <sup>8</sup> _____ especially the King and Queen of Siam for they had a <sup>9</sup> _____ child called Tatsani, which means the Daughter of Dawn. As the years passed, Tatsani grew into a
